Met Office Aberdeen Meteorologist's View

A windy day with widespread gales on the hills. Feeling warmer around eastern areas of Caithness and Easter Ross.

Forecast for Wednesday 10 Aug 2022

Weather: Perhaps low cloud lingering overnight but lifting during the morning to leave a dry, bright and sunny day and feeling warm at low level especially further east towards the Great Glen and Inverness. Low cloud may linger on Skye and other exposed areas to the southwesterly winds for much of the day.

Maximum wind: Southwesterly 20 gust 35 mph.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 70% improving to 90% in the afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Scattered layers of cloud above 6-700m in the early morning around western hills, lifting and breaking to just patches of cloud above 700m. Ranges exposed to the southwesterly flow like the southern end of the Cuillin and coastal ranges like Knoydart will see broken layers of cloud above 500m lifting to 6-700m in the afternoon, perhaps thinning and clearing in the evening.

Temperature: Glens: Plus 12 rising to 18-22 Celsius, higher temperatures in the east.
At 800m: Plus 8 rising to 13 Celsius.
Freezing level: Above all summits.
